

April 2021

El futuro
es de todos

Cancillería
Embajada de Colombia
en Austria

Foto: Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta, KEITH LADZINSKI, Article about Colombia- NatGeo

Cultural News Colombia

Culture unites us. This month, the Embassy of Colombia in Austria invites you to a virtual talk about Architecture. And we share the cultural news of our country and artists in Slovenia.

Invitation to virtual talk "Architecture in Colombia"

ARCHITECTURE IN COLOMBIA

Social, environmental and urban challenges

More info: eaustria@cancilleria.gov.co

Link to connect: <https://bit.ly/3tfc8Q7>

AN INVITATION BY THE COLOMBIAN EMBASSIES IN WESTERN EUROPE AND ISRAEL

ARCHITECTURAL CHALLENGES FACING AN ECONOMIC MODEL OF EXPONENTIAL GROWTH

26

By:
Pablo Forero y Julián
Restrepo

April
15:30 GMT / 17:30 Austria
English
French

Seven wonders of Colombia in National Geographic

This is how the magazine National Geographic describes Colombia: "From encounters with animals in tropical jungles to culinary experiences in historic cities, Colombia offers an intoxicating mix of wild nature and cosmopolitan flair. Few countries can boast the cultural and geographic diversity of Colombia."

Read article here:

<https://on.natgeo.com/39J5YQL>

Foto: Eje Cafetero, Shutterstock, ARTICLE NatGeo

Zuluk, Colombian rock duo is recognized in Slovenia

Foto: Personal archive artists

The Colombian musician duo consisting of Juan Zuleta and David Mosquera has attracted the attention of the national communication media in Slovenia. The two young musicians' talent has brought them to give interviews on the radio and television. Link interview on Ljubljana TV: <https://youtu.be/-8cvqdk299o> (min: 2:06-2:15)

Link interview on Radio Slovenia 1:

<https://bit.ly/3sGUUeo>

"Son de paz", music, art and reconciliation

416 people in the process of reincorporation and 1,186 habitants of 30 communities in Colombia worked together for 8 months hand in hand on a process of confidence building and development of their territories. This, within the framework of an agreement implemented by the ARN and the IOM, with the support of the National Reincorporation Council (CNR). Más información: <https://bit.ly/39RqU7Y>

Colombia and USA sign agreement on cultural heritage

This new agreement, in place for the next five years, derived from the 1970 Unesco Convention, takes on the commitment of the two countries to continue working on the prevention of illicit trafficking of Colombian cultural goods. The tool restricts the entry of non-authorized Colombian cultural goods as exportations to the United States.

More information: <https://bit.ly/39VUFVn>

"Urdimbres" collection of stories from 200 women of the Colombian Pacific and Caribbean regions

Within the framework of the "Women Recount their Territory" Program, accompanied by the Cultural and Social Corporation CORPOCURRELAO, the Ministry of Culture of Colombia has developed "Urdimbres", an anthology that gave 200 women writers from the Colombian Pacific and Caribbean regions the chance to recount the realities of their territories from their personal experiences.

More information: <https://bit.ly/3s1Pw44>

Ibague becomes Unesco Creative City

Ibague will be the fourth Colombian city to be declared Creative City of Music. Bogota, Medellin and Valledupar have already received this recognition and are part of the Unesco Creative Cities Network. Popayan and Buenaventura were recognized as Creative Cities of Gastronomy in 2005 and 2017, respectively. In 2020, Santiago de Cali was recognized in the category of Digital Arts. The Unesco Creative Cities Network includes 246 cities all over the world.

More information: <https://bit.ly/3sWTah0>

New country manifest: Colombia, the most welcoming place.

Find out more: <https://welcoming-kit.colombia.co/>

